Co-op removes problem products from their shelves

A high incidence of shoplifting involving two common household products has prompted the Elk Point Co-op to remove Listerine antiseptic and Lysol spray disinfectant from their shelves.

Co-op Manager Rodger McLaughlin says that the store has made a firm decision to discontinue the sale of these products because large quantities of the products are disappearing from the shelves without being purchased. "We bring in a case, sell five and where do the rest go?"

McLaughlin suspects that the products are being stolen for consumption rather than for their intended use. In this regard, he notes, "I certainly don't want to contribute to someone's habit—I might just as well be a dope peddler."

Customers who routinely purchase these products for their originally intended use "will just have to find substitute mouthwashes and household disinfectants," he added.

McLaughlin hopes that all other retailers in Elk Point will take the same action and discontinue sale of these products. "We could certainly put Elk Point on the map as the first town in Canada to discontinue selling products which are misused."

He noted that if other products "become a habit for a high" the Co-op will discontinue selling these also. McLaughlin invites anyone who has "any objections, talk to me."

Agricultural Society

Land rezoned for development

Elk Point and District Agricultural Society's plans for a fairgrounds, pavilion and racetrack are back in operation, with by-laws passed at Monday's regular meeting of Town Council changing the General Municipal Plan and rezoning the thirty acre parcel on the southwest quarter of Section 7, Township 57, Range 6, W4th to permit the development.

The site is across Highway 41 and a short distance south from a parcel originally chosen for the development, which drew considerable ire from ratepayers who objected to the location of a fairgrounds near a residential area. The Ag Society withdrew their offer to purchase that property, north of the residential subdivision and apartment complexes, following a public hearing on changes to the General Municipal Plan to permit development there.

The new site, located directly north of Pan Canadian Petroleum's office complex, is being purchased from Larry Babcock. Surveying necessary to subdivide the parcel is now under way, and the next step will be to obtain a development permit from the Town.

Ag Society spokesperson Charene Baker was in attendance at the Public Hearing into the rezoning, and was pleased that no further objections had been raised. "We'd like to get this over and done with—spring is here and time is of the essence," she noted.

No objections of any kind were heard or received regarding the new site.

The March 19 meeting of Council also saw a reshuffling of committees to permit appointments of new Council members Louis Verhagen and Charlie Mahon to the various bodies. Councillor Verhagen will be involved with the Development Appeal Board, Community Services Board, Utilities, Development and Public Safety committees. Councillor Mahon was given seats formerly held by Councillor Allan Frankiw on the Municipal Planning Commission and the North East Library Project Board, plus seats on the Utilities Committee and Airport Commission. Frankiw was added to the Development Appeal Board, while Councillor Morris Cooper was added to the Buckingham House Management Board.

Mayor Bruce Kleeberger and Councillors Verhagen and Cooper were appointed to the Court of Revision, with Administrator Pat Vincent as Clerk of the Court. A date for the Court of Revision to hear objections to the 1990 assessments will be set in the near future.

Council agreed with a recommendation from the Community Services Committee that a picnic shelter be constructed at the recreation land. Council decided that invitations to tender the project should be sent to local and area contractors, since the Public Works Department already has a full spring and summer of work ahead.

Fees for the use of the Community Services Centre gym by the Ukrainian Dance Club were set, taking into consideration the Club's rental of office space in the building. All rents will be reviewed by the CS Board, with a new schedule of fees in place by the fall of this year.

The Town is looking at an increase of less than $1000 over 1989 figures in the M. D. of St. Paul Foundation's annual requisition from the Town. The Town of Elk Point's share is $9053. The Town also pays $1500 each toward the County of St. Paul's and the Town of St. Paul's requisitions for the Foundation, as part of a commitment made by Mayor Mike Habiak when Heritage Lodge was being planned. It was noted that Heritage Lodge, which operated at a $92,562 deficit in 1989, should do better financially this year as occupancy has increased from a 1989 average of 23 to 35 residents at the present time. The facility has a capacity of 44 residents.

Approval was given to a recommendation from the Community Services Committee that the Elk Point and District Lions Club be given free use of the recreation land ball diamonds for this year's Jan Frisby Memorial Tournament, in recognition of the large financial contribution made by the Lions to the ball diamond project. The annual tournament raises funds for the Cancer Society.

A draft of a newly revamped agreement for development of the Historical Mural Park was received from the Elk Point Historical Society. The draft will be reviewed by Councillor Adele Mandryk and Administrator Pat Vincent.

Council was visited by a delegation from Elk Point and District Ambulance Services Ltd. Fred Lambright and Lauri Leaf brought forth a proposal for a subsidy of the ambulance service in Elk Point, as this is presently operating at a loss. Deliberations resulting from the lengthy discussion were tabled until Council's next meeting.

Vince Behr of Birch Hill Enterprises was also a visitor at Council. Behr was supplying videotaped local programming to Community Channel 5, but is unable to continue due to the lack of sponsorship to cover production and equipment costs. Programming ceased as of March 3. A Community Channel Committee which determines the management of the channel is in place, and will be advised of this situation.

Permission has been obtained for the Town to pump water from the North Saskatchewan River during the period May 15 to June 9. A request has been made to obtain pumps and pipe through Alberta Environment, but if this cannot be done, the equipment is available for rent elsewhere.

A brainstorming session to discuss ways in which Community Futures could help Elk Point will be part of the agenda at Council's next meeting.

Mayor Kleeberger and Deputy Mayor Frankiw met with the County School Board on March 12, and presented that body with a final copy of the Town's Facility Study. Representatives of the County will visit Elk Point to study the parcel of land which the Town would like to obtain as a site for the new Community Services Centre.

With two public hearings and a regular meeting all in one evening, Mayor and Council could have collected $175 each for attendance on Monday. In the interests of fiscal responsibility, Deputy Mayor Frankiw moved that the fee for one of the public hearings be waived, with the entire Council agreeing to a $50 lower income apiece for the meeting.

R.C.M.P. to address Chamber

Constable Doug Huskins of the Elk Point RCMP Detachment is scheduled to address today's meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce with regards to a recent problem with NSF cheques which have been presented to local businesses.

All Chamber members are urged to attend so they may find out how to deal with this all-too-common situation in the proper manner.

Senior Skaters Shine With The Stars

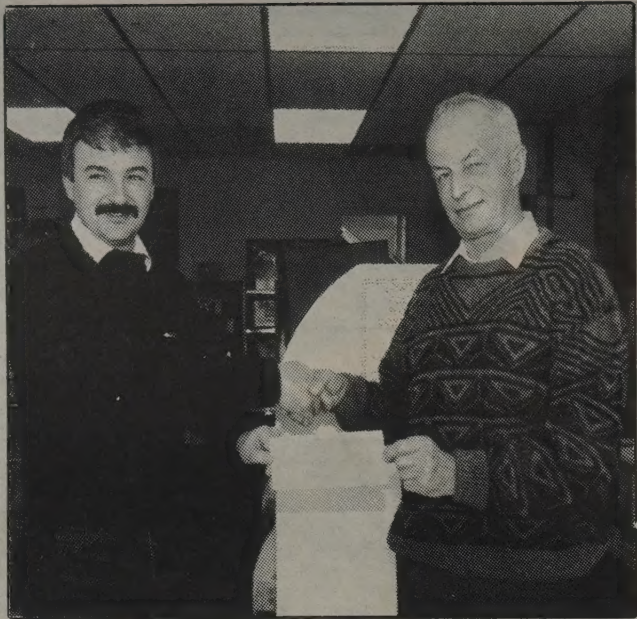

Elk Point Skating Club's CFSA senior skaters performed a polished routine at last Friday's Ice Carnival, where they were among the brightest stars in the galaxy of the A. G. Ross Arena. Story and more pictures, Page 5.

Bantams compete in Provincials

Elk Point Bantam Elks represented Zone 2 in last weekend's Provincial Championship Tournament at Coronation, and made their way into the semi-finals before losing out to Valleyview.

Their first round saw the Bantam Elks down Rimbey by a good 9-4 margin. They went on to defeat To-field 9-5 in the second round. A loss to Athabasca put them into the semi-final game against Valleyview, with Valleyview making a final goal into an empty Elk Point net in the final minute of play to defeat them 6-4. Picture Butte won over Athabasca in the semi-final, and went on to take the championship, defeating Valleyview in the final.

Coach Jim Hawkins said that Elk Point was clearly one of the top 4 teams in the tourney, and all of his boys played to their top potential.

Gymnasts Receive Grant

MLA John Drobot presents a $3300 grant from the Alberta Sports Council to Doug Huskins of the Elk Point Gymnastics Club, for the purchase of safety mats for the parallel bars, a rolling mat and other needed equipment.

Sask-Alta Hockey

Kitscoty wins tiebreaker

The much disputed Sask-Alta Hockey League playoff series between Elk Point Elks and Kitscoty Monarchs is finally over, with the Monarchs breaking the 2-all tie with a 6-4 victory Wednesday night in Elk Point. Another enormous crowd was on hand to witness the end of the series that came back to life after Kitscoty protested the outcome of the March 1 game, following a three win runaway by the Elks which had given the Elk Point team the series.

Elk Point fans were increasingly jubilant through much of the first period, when three goals in the first sixteen minutes showed the Elks playing in top form. Murray Cochran, Kerry Loughran and Alain Lelercle each contributed a goal, with assists by Jim Vinge (2), Kerry Loughran and Lane Lorensen.

Kitscoty finally hit the scoreboard with 3:36 left in the period, thanks to Dean Reinhart and assists by Phil and Larry Bexson, to bring the score to 3-1 at the period's end.

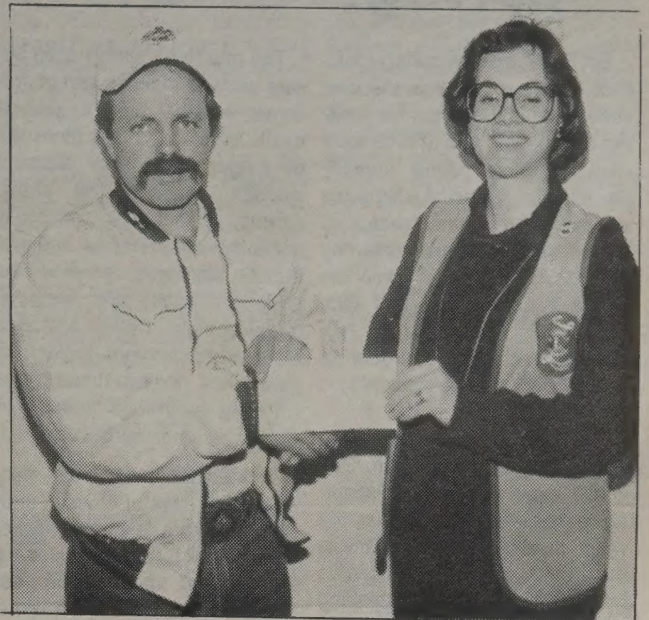

The second period belonged exclusively to the Monarchs, with three more goals for Reinhart and one for Darwin Presley tipping the scales in Kitscoty's favor. A strong defence kept the Elks from scoring, while an unrelenting offence took its toll on Duane Wolanuk's netminding.

Mike Scott took over the Elks net at the beginning of the final period, but failed to keep a sixth goal, by Greg West off an assist by Vern Bexson, from hitting the mark. A brief rally by the Elks narrowed the gap to two points, with a goal by Kerry Loughran. The final eight minutes were spent by the Elks in a ceaseless but unsuccessful attempt to make up the deficit, while successfully keeping the visitors from making further goals.

Subsequent to the game, the Elks filed a protest which questioned the status of one of Kitscoty's players, however this protest was lost.

The hockey season is still not over for the Elks, however. They will be starting a Provincial 'D' playoff series against Paradise Valley in the near future, with the date for the first game to be announced following the conclusion of the league playoff series between Marwayne and Paradise Valley.

Participants could choose from three main categories for their presentation, with a maximum of 5 minutes allowed for their choice of original oratory, oral interpretation of published or original literature, or acting.

The winners were as follows: Grade 7-1. Tom Rae; 2. Becky Matthews and Monica Engstrom. Grade 8-1. Crystal McPherson; 2.

Amy Hawkins and Dorothea Naber. Grade 9-1. Tanya Kenyon, Kara Serniak and Diane Baranowski; 2. Elisabeth Ludlage, Christine Seniuk, Mary Masse and Sean Fairburn. Grade 10-1. Kristin Kittlitz; 2. Diane DeMoissac and Joe Young. Grade 11-1. Barbara Naber, Charlotte Lazicki, Kim Bugera and Amore Gagne; 2. David Garnett-Bennett, Stewart Gervais and Stacy Dunham. Grade 12-1. Sheldon Porcina; 2. Virginia Masse.

The Junior High event was chaired by Lana Kozicki, while Mike Estey chaired the Senior High section.

The day proved very successful, with excellent presentations made to a very receptive audience.

Northern Lights in Vegreville

Vegreville has been selected as the new home for the Northern Lights Library System. Allan Frankiw, who represented the Town of Elk Point on the Interim Board of the System, told Council that Elk Point was one of several towns which lost out in the first round of voting at the March 10 meeting where the decision between the seven potential sites was made.

All of the temporary headquarters sites were viewed by Alberta Public Works, and concerns regarding Elk Point's offered location in the former Work Warehouse building included heating, lack of the required size, and the Town's need to lease the site. St. Paul, Two Hills and Elk Point were considered best by Frankiw in the long term view because of their central location, but lost out in their ability to attract professional and support staff.

Northern Lights Interim Board will meet with Minister of Culture Doug Main on March 26 to determine if the government is ready to establish the system at this time, and to determine when funding will be available.

Lioness Environment Tip

Until our various levels of government start to work together on reducing our packaging and hence our garbage, do your best to avoid the following examples of environment - unfriendly product wrappings: Tetra-Paks: These are the square juice boxes, they can be neither reused or recycled because they have a outer layer of plastic, a middle layer of cardboard, and an inner layer of aluminium foil.

Blister packages: These cardboard-backed packages with a plastic bubble on the front to hold the product do let you see the contents. However the different materials can't be separated efficiently for recycling.

Individually wrapped snacks:

These may look hygienic at first glance but is the second wrapping really necessary. Also we must include the individually wrapped restaurant portions of butter, sugar, salt, pepper, ketchup and other condiments, do we really need these.

Polystyrene foam egg cartons: This is harmful packaging so the issue isn't to reduce it but to replace them. Cardboard egg cartons can be made from recyclable paper.

In Our View

Spring??? Tra la!

So THIS is what spring looks like! As we go to press, the new season is just upon us, but looking out the window affords us a view of snow sifting steadily down to pile in fanciful sculptures wherever the wind tosses it. Streets and roads, just yesterday dry and dusty, are again an amalgam of ice, snow and salty slush. NOT at all what we had ordered for the first afternoon of spring, thank you very much!

Of course, we might have known this would happen. The vernal equinox has this discouraging habit of throwing us the worst possible weather. This is the time of year when you can be basking in the sun and thinking about garden seeds one minute and deluged in white stuff and wondering where you left the snow shovel the next. This is the time of year we get those really big dumps of snow that set us to digging out of six foot drifts and wading in hip deep snow to look for newborn calves.

The one thing spring does assure us of, is that this sort of tire-some weather won't prevail much longer, and that there will be longer and longer pleasant periods between the snowstorms. Eventually, hopefully sometime between now and graduation weekend, winter will be gone for good, and we'll all heave a sigh of relief and start cleaning up the yard, looking for perennials poking through the warming earth and dusting off the boat and the barbecue.

In the meantime, we can enjoy a few last days of cross-country skiing, go to a few more hockey games, look for a new Easter outfit, and think about all the good times we can have when winter finally gives up its attempt to stay all year.

Have a great spring--and watch for the swallows! Our local expert says they'll be back here just a few days after they hit Capistrano, and that could be any minute now.

New policies set

In the box below, you will find the newly established Letter to the Editor policy which has been provided by our publisher. As of now, only signed letters will be printed in this paper, and in the case of a letter which refers to some specific person or group, that person or group will have a chance to see the letter before it is published and to respond to it in the same issue. We feel that the new policy will give readers an opportunity to have their views expressed, while those whom they mention in their letters will have an equal opportunity to have their side heard from.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Letter to the Editor Policy

The Lakeland Review welcomes letters to the editor. They should be brief as possible - maximum length of 300 words is suggested. Alberta Trails

Made it through again!

By Irene Magnusson

Glancing back down the years, (and along the shelfful of typed pages I've accumulated in my three-ring folders) I see - and it's hard to believe - that I've been writing this little column I've insisted be called "Alberta Trails" since 1980. That will be ten years, come fall.

So I must have had a lot of words stuffed down inside of me, that have slowly leaked out, onto the pages of - at various times - the Mannville Reflections, Elk Point Reflections, Elk Point Sentinel, St. Paul Journal, Vermilion Standard and the Lakeland Review. Plus a few that have wandered afield and made their way into other publications.

Some of you have been reading these little outbursts regularly, all this time. No doubt I have repeated some observations, and no doubt I will do it again. But I hope you will keep on reading, in the off chance we will both come to something new, or worth repeating.

At about this same time of the year, my thoughts are almost forced to turn to Spring. After all, it is the First Day of Spring today. Already three long months past the shortest day, the sun rises in flaming splendour early enough so most of us needn't put on the lights in order to see our way to the breakfast table. If you are lucky, as I am, you will have a kitchen window facing the glowing eastern sky, so you can rejoice in the pink and orange and gold of dawn, as you brew your morning coffee - or whatever gets you alert and smiling as you begin your day.

Alert and smiling is the ONLY way to start a new day. After all, IF you are able to start a new day, you already have plenty to smile about. If you are not able to start a new day, it really won't matter if you frown, snarl or bark - or smile - you won't get anywhere anyway.

March 21st, the first day of spring, with the water starting to collect in roadside pools, or run down the gutters, with buds swelling on the trees, furry new calves frolicking in the straw, kids looking forward to spring break...what better time of year could there be?

Years ago - and over a period of half a century - a certain someone and I would take as much of one such spring day as we could manage to escape our chores and duties, put on our longest rubber boots, warm sweaters or jackets, and wander forth. We explored the roadside run-off, and opened new runnels for the charging brown water, dashing along in desperate hurry to reach the farthest place it could get. Down, down and forever down, the melted snow rushes, so anxious to reach the sea - but often caught in some little eddy, to become a pool, to sink into the thawing earth.

I hope a lot of it stays in captured pools, this spring; perhaps we will see ducks and muskrats, and hear the frogs sing again. The pools and streams have been dry too long. In our wanderings (playing in the mud, is what we called it) we made tiny passageways for the water, if it was bottled up, with our boot toes, sometimes a stick, or we carried a hoe or small spade. We were helping "spring."

Sometimes, when we got to the top of the hill, we would stand and look out over the spring had come, with all its promise of new growth and budding trees, green grass, new crops of fruit and grain and flowers, and hearts full of hope.

Which is not to say we lost all hope in the winter time - but it is easier to see it and feel it, when the sun is warm and the sky is blue, the air is rich with the scents of winter's decay and the hopes of spring's new growth. Sometimes, when the time was right, we wandered to the sloughs, where brown water lay amidst the broken brown bullrushes and cattails. Or we went to the stream at the bottom of the hill, where the churning golden-syrup coils of water boiled over rocks and logs, sliding down under the little bridge to burst forth triumphantly on the lower side, crowned with blobs of white suds, tugging branches and chips and rubbish along as it chortled "away, to the sea, to the sea!" And we would throw in our little ship, watching it twirl and go under, only to pop up again downstream.

Do children ever go to the creeks now? Do they put in their little 'boats, watch the bubbles froth, really hear the song of springtime? I hope they do. It would be too sad to think anyone has missed the joy of greeting another spring.

I will be listening now for the first crow's caw, and will not mistake him for a hardy raven who stays through the winter's cold. Later, in a couple or four weeks, I'll watch for the first crocus. Already, the buds are swelling on the poplars, and willows show white pussy tips on their much redder bushes, as they gather up their juices, readying for the spring and new growth. Join me in rejoicing that we have "Made it through again!"

Down In The Meadow

Down in the meadow,
Where the stream runs blue,
Lived a Mama fishy
And her little fishes two;
"Swim!" said the Mama fish,
"We swim!" said the two;
So they swam and they swam

Where the stream runs blue.
by Whom? and other verses?

Dewberry's Pages of Time

We'll always be together, in this book of memories,
When we turn back these pages of time,
From years of yesterdays, to the time of today,
Well always be together, in this book of memories.

We're happy today for those good old yesterdays,
to have our home town so free,
Tho' the modern days today, has changed from yesterday.
Dewberry is Home Sweet Home to you and me.

Dreams will always help us, with our memories;
And friendly faces, will never grow old,
Tho' some have gone on before, we will all meet again;
And we'll be together in this book of memories!

Haakon Lunden

Skaters "Shine with the stars"

The stars were out in full force in Elk Point last Friday evening, both in the evening sky and in the A. G. Ross Arena, where the talented members of the Elk Point Skating Club presented their annual ice carnival, "Shine With The Stars."

From tiny 3, 4 and 5 year olds whose skating careers are just beginning, to the older teenagers in the CFSA program whose talents have brought them medals from many competitions, each skater was rewarded for their year's work by the warm applause of the parents, siblings and friends who packed the arena for the show.

A dark blue curtain spangled with golden stars served as the backdrop for the performers, and continued the theme.

The carnival began with two solos, by Jena Bassett and Karen Kubista. Jena is in her second year of skating and last year won a draw enabling her to attend a summer skating school in Bonnyville. Karen is in her first year of CFSA and is currently working on her preliminaries, having passed her Dutch Waltz and Canasta Dances.

The first group to perform were the 3-to-5 year old Tots. Ashley Bochon, Kelly Derewynka, Tyler Hebblethwaite, Kevin Moneta, Colton Huffman, Tracy Longpre, Christopher Neilson and Kathleen Wilson make up this group which has spent their first year on the ice learning to fall down, get up, glide, step and balance on their skates.

Melanie Johnson, a tiny girl with big potential, is only in Grade 1 but has been skating for 4 years, which showed in her solo. She is working on her Novice III badge and is in her first year of private lessons with Katharina Ludlage as coach. In recent competition at Kitscoty, she placed 4th in Pre-preliminary Freeskate.

First year CFSA skater Christina Kubista was the next soloist. She is also in her first year of private lessons with Katharina, and is working on freeskate and figures after passing all her dances at the preliminary level.

The Canscate I group was neatly attired in 'ducky' sweatshirts with bright skirts, legwarmers and hairbows just like Daisy Duck's. Sarah Palmer, Kimberley Wilson, Aleisha Birkett, Cherie Hudy and Kim Shelley showed their first year fundamentals to upbeat musical accompaniment.

Configure Group I, consisting of Heather Estey, Mary Easthope, Karen Kubista, Stacey Kozicki, Carrie Baumgardner and Dennell Anderson, included the Canasta Tango, which is the second preliminary dance, in their performance.

Jessica Kleeberger, in her first year of private lessons with Katharina Ludlage and who is working on her final badge of the Canscate program, was the next soloist. She was followed by veteran skater Shauna Loughran, who is working on her 6th figure and Gold Freeskate. At Regionals, Shauna placed second in the Artistic event.

Canscate Group III, who have finished over half the badges in that program, demonstrated their latest accomplishments to the beat of Rock Around The Clock. Members of this group are Valerie Engstrom, Melanie Johnson, Charise Kinneberg, Rhea Palmer, Kandy Bjornstad, Jena Bassett and Judy Kim.

The next two solos were performed by Vickie Kleeberger, in her first year of private lessons and hoping to complete her Canscate program this year, and Tobey Conrad, a talented teenage skater who is working on her Fourth Figure, Senior Silver Freeskate and Gold Dance, and who placed second in Novice Ladies Freeskate at Provincials.

The first public performance of Elk Point's new precision team was very well received. The nineteen skaters range from 8 to 13 years of age and are coached by Lee Ann Wozniak. Members are Stacey Kozicki, Carrie Baumgardner, Dennell Anderson, Mary Easthope, Zanna Brovchenko, Amber Kopeck, Melissa Easthope, Kandy Bjornstad, Karen Kubista, Monica Engstrom, Sheri Makowecki, Christina Kubista, Christa Lypka, Judy Kim, Charise Kinneberg, Alicia Neilsen, Sheana Kinneberg, Heather Estey and Janice Derewynka. Dressed in royal blue with lemon yellow trim, the group demonstrated their growing talents as a team with a variety of routines.

Following a brief intermission which featured a special 90th birthday greeting to longtime skating fan Ron Barwick, the show resumed with the first group to take to the ice being the Junior CFSA skaters, Melanie Johnson, Vickie Kleeberger, Jessie Kleeberger, Jena Bassett, Christina Kubista, Karen Kubista, Carrie Baumgardner and Dennell Anderson, who did a western styled routine to the Bonanza theme, dressed in cutoff jeans and cowboy hats.

A solo by Callie Baumbardner showed the prowess gained in 8 years of skating. She is working on her Junior Bronze Freeskate, Junior Silver and Senior Bronze dances and her Second Figure, as well as helping with the Canscate Groups as an amateur coach.

Melanie Johnson
Grade 1 skater with 4 years experience.

Canscate Group II, Julie Whiffen-Peters, Leanne Longpre, Bronwyn Bilak, Jamie Schnurer, Tanya Pankiw and Dawn Dale, range from 6 to 7 years of age and are in their second year of skating. They showed their newest skills in their part of the program.

Bonnyville skater John Feser, who placed 4th in Juvenile Freeskate at Provincials and first at Kitscoty Invitational was a special guest on the program. He was followed by Charlene Anderson in another solo performance. Charlene is working on her 3rd figure, Senior Bronze Freeskate and Senior Silver Dance, and recently competed at both Provincials and Alberta Winter Games.

Configure Group III, Monica Engstrom, Christina Kubista, Melissa Easthope, Christa Lypka and Sheri Makowecki performed the Dutch Waltz to an old fashioned waltz tune as part of their presentation.

The next soloist was Christina Estey, who is working on her 3rd Figure, Junior Silver Freeskate and Senior Silver Dance, and who has obtained her Level 3 Amateur Coaching certificate. She helps with the Monday Canscate Program.

Elisabeth Ludlage, who recently competed at Provincials and at the Winter Games, is working on her 5th Figure, Gold Freeskate and her last Gold Dance. Her impressive solo showed the dedication she has put into her skating this year.

Canscate IV is a group of girls who are working on the final badge of that program. Dressed in baby blue and red, with scarf tied ponytails, Amber Kopeck, Alicia Neilsen, Vickie Kleeberger, Jessie Kleeberger, Janice Derewynka, Tracy Kubista, Sheana Kinneberg and Zanna Brovchenko performed their routine to the modern beat of 'Hey! Baby!'

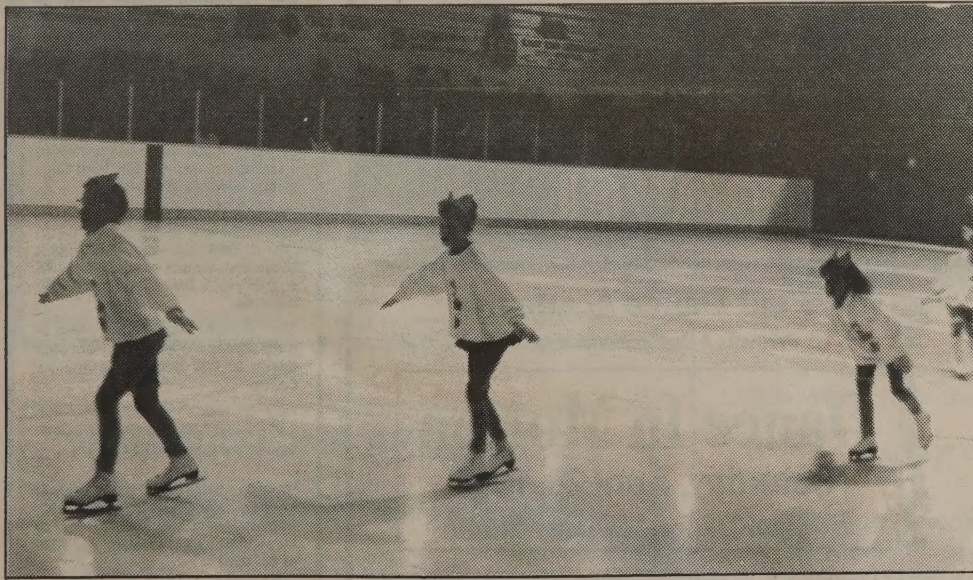

The evening's final two soloists were Dennell Anderson and Carrie Baumgardner. Dennell has completed her preliminaries this year and is working on her 1st Figure, Junior Bronze Freeskate and Junior Bronze Dances, while Carrie is in her first year of private lessons and will be tested on her preliminaries in the next few weeks.

The final group of the evening was the Senior CFSA members, Callie Baumbardner, Tobey Conrad, Christina Estey, Elisabeth Ludlage, Shauna Loughran, Charlene Anderson, Becky Ostropolski, Corrie Sweeney, Shelly Goyan and Katharina Ludlage, who gave a dazzling 'Salute To Commercials' with a series of solos and group routines to the music from radio and television commercials.

The Grand Finale saw all the skaters back on the ice, for a colorful routine in which every last skater took part, to the very fitting music from the TV show 'Fame.' With talents like those shown in the concert, the audience is sure that these young stars on ice are truly destined for fame in the future.

What's new at the library?

The staff and board members at the Elk Point Library would like to thank AADAC in St. Paul for the donation of the video cassette "Drug Dialogue". Through compelling dramatization, "Drug dialogue" is a home video tht suggests ways parents can talk to their kids before drugs become a problem. It also suggests what parents can do if kids have begun to experiment with drugs.

The staff and board members at the Elk Point Library would also like to thank the Elk Point Gas Ltd. for the donation of the book "Harvesting the Flame". This book is about the history of Alberta's rural natural gas cooperatives.

NEW BOOKS:

"Druids, Gods & Heroes from Celtic Mythology" by Anne Ross - This book presents the myths, legends and stories of the Celts from the most ancient Irish tales to the saga of King Arthur. "Empire of the Dust" by David Jones - Settlers in 1912 knew it as Carlstadt, the "Star of the Prairie"; survivors remember it as Alderson, the ghost town. This is the history of this doomed village, west of Medicine Hat, and of the enormous surrounding tracts, is a life-sized saga of miscalculation...of drought, destitution and depopulation.

"A Canadian's Road to Russia" by Stuart Ramsy Tompkins. The author had written letters to his wife, Edna, from 1917 - 1919. These letters provide an articulate view of the war from the trenches.

"The Favored Child" by Philippa Gregory - A stunning sequel to her first novel "Wideacre" unfolds the lavish world of the 18th Century England.

Among the new FCSS books are "Survival Strategies for Couples" by Dr. John Wright - a survival guide for society's most endangered species - the happy couple! "How Men Feel" by Anthony Astrachan - Mens response to womens' demands for equality and power. "Better Homes and Gardens New Baby Book" Prenatal care for mothers, new advice for working mothers and child guidance through the 6th year. "The Birth Partner: Everything you need to know to help a woman through childbirth" by Penny Simkin P.T. This book gives information and options that help couples make intelligent, informed choices about their children's birth.

Library to host Writing Workshop

As part of their celebrations of the International Year of Literacy, the St. Paul Municipal Library, in cooperation with St. Paul Further Education Council, is hosting a workshop on 'Writing For New Adult Readers,' March 30 and 31, 1990, at Regional High School, St. Paul.

This workshop will be of special interest to those who wish to write fiction or non-fiction articles, stories or books for adults who are just becoming acquainted with the skill of reading, and who may have difficulty finding reading material which matches both their interests and their level of reading ability.

Instructors will be Dr. Patricia McFetridge, Ph. D., and Dr. J. D. McFetridge, Ph. D. The former is a retired Professor Emeritus from the University of Alberta, who chaired the Department of Education there, and whose focus was on children's language studies. Her husband, Dr. J. D. McFetridge, was a secondary school principal for ten years, and then was with the Alberta Teachers' Association as Communications Officer. His field is communications, and his hobby is writing poetry, with one of his poems winning an Edmonton Journal Poetry Award. The McFetridges are now retired and live at Lower Mann Lake.

The workshop will be held in Rooms 123-124 at the Regional High School, with sessions from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. on Friday, March 30, and from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 31. Friday's session, by Dr. J. D. McFetridge, studies 'The Anatomy Of The Language' while Saturday's portion, by Dr. Patricia McFetridge, will discuss the techniques of writing more easily understood prose while maintaining the richness which keeps the reader interested, along with tips on 'Writing Up and Writing Down' and refocusing writing for various groups of readers.

Fee for the workshop is only $10, which includes Saturday lunch. Luncheon speaker will be Heather Demchuk, monitor of the LEARN Program in St. Paul.

Please pre-register in person at the St. Paul Library, or by calling the Library at 645-4904, on or before Friday, March 23.

Learning a trade can be your ticket to success.

Whether you measure the rewards in financial terms, or in the good feeling of a job well done, good work does have its rewards.

If you know someone who is thinking about a career in a skilled trade, you can share some important facts to help him or her make the right decision.

- There are over 50 career options that have been designated as skilled trades in Alberta.
- Skilled trades provide the fastest-growing employment opportunities in the province. Some trades are already experiencing visible shortages in professional skills.
- 80 per cent of Alberta's economy is based on the success of small business. Many of those businesses started from a career in a skilled trade.
- Becoming a skilled tradesperson is an organized and professionally administered career and training process — a process called apprenticeship.

Alberta is dependent upon the good work of people in skilled trades, and through the combined efforts of government and business, provides the best apprenticeship system in Canada. Skilled tradespeople who apprentice in Alberta are respected throughout the country and accepted around the world.

Alberta Apprenticeship is designed to develop excellence through training and experience. While enjoying the financial benefits of employment with a participating business, apprentices learn their trade through an industry-designed training program. This involves practical training with certified professionals on the job, and technical training at one of 16 schools throughout Alberta. This technical training is designed and delivered by industry and education professionals and, with the practical training, leads to trade certification in over 50 designated trades.

If you'd like to help someone who is considering a career in skilled trades, share the facts. And, if they'd like more information about career opportunity in Alberta's skilled trades, we're here to help, too. Just call or visit the nearest Alberta Career Development Centre.

For more information on trades careers dial 0 and ask the operator for Zenith 22140. In Edmonton call 422-4266.
